For some ABMS Member Boards, physicians who achieved Board Certification before those Boards established their MOC programs are not required to participate in MOC. To obtain information regarding whether a specific physician is required to participate in MOC please contact the pertinent ABMS Member Board: <http://www.CertificationMatters.org/abms-member-boards.aspx>

Important notice: Reports provided by this service are not accepted by The Joint Commission, NQQA or URAC to verify physician credentials because no dates are supplied.

ANNUAL MOC FEE

As of January 1, 2012, diplomates entering MOC will be required to pay the initial $150 payment by December 31 of the first year of the MOC 10-year cycle. For example, if you certify or recertify in 2012, you will enter MOC January 1, 2013. To successfully complete MOC participation in 2013 payment must be received by December 31, 2013.

New MOC tools are being developed to expand the offerings available to our diplomats at reasonable costs.

A new peer survey will be available soon on our website and we anticipate a new patient survey by year's end.

THE COST OF PARTICIPATING IN MOC

The table below outlines a range of the costs associated with participating in maintenance of certification over the 10-year cycle. These figures are subject to change as new products are introduced and made available.

ABD Mission:

The American Board of Dermatology is a voluntary, non-profit organization whose mission is to assure safe, high-quality dermatologic care for the public by setting, promoting and assuring standards of excellence in the practice of our specialty.

LICENSE ATTESTATION (Component 1)

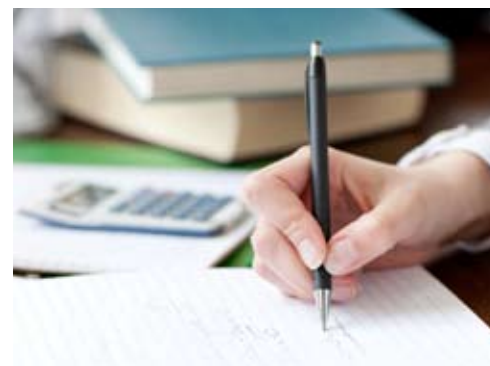

License attestation must be verified no later than January 31 of each year.

Log in to the American Board of Dermatology website, click on the MOC tab to access your 10-year MOC table, and click on the Enter button for License Attestation.

FLEXIBLE EXAMINATION ADMINISTRATION BEGINS IN 2012 (Component 3)

Previously diplomates could take the closed-book proctored examination only the last 3 years of the 10 year cycle.

As of January 1, 2012, the examination can be taken during years 3-10 of the MOC cycle. However no more than 12 years may elapse before taking and passing the examination for the next cycle. The intent of this change is to reduce examination pressure and to allow diplomates more flexibility in deciding the optimal time to take the test.
